SAVE THE DATE

Metastatic Breast Cancer (mBC) Summit

9:00 AM – 4:30 PM | Saturday, 1 September 2018 | Hong Kong

These are optimistic times to be a breast oncologist. Treatment for mBC has improved significantly over the last decade.

Becoming a breast oncologist in the molecular era of medicine is challenging, especially in formulating the best treatment plan for patients. The 2018 mBC Summit, guided by a scientific steering committee in collaboration with the Hong Kong Breast Oncology Group, will feature keynote address by Professor William Gradishar, as well as exciting presentations by regional and local experts. By bringing together key opinion leaders in breast oncology, this summit will provide a platform for discussions around novel treatments and latest clinical evidence in mBC management particularly in Asian patients, as well as enable collaboration and exchange of expertise and experience.
